

4,500 PEOPLE GREET SPEAKERS

At Laurens—Blease Followers Appear in Majority—Smith a Favorite.

Laurens, July 22.—The largest audience which has yet attended the Senatorial campaign was at Laurens to-day to hear the candidates speak. The crowd approximated 4,500 people. The meeting was called to order by Geo. A. Browning, acting county chairman, in place of W. C. Irby, who is on the canvass for Governor.

Governor Blease was the first speaker. He was savage in his attack on the newspapers, particularly the Columbia Record.

The Governor said a banker and mill president at Whitmire told him "to go below" and claimed that, at Anderson, a large stockholder in a cotton mill came on the stand with a pistol in hand, and he referred to the Norwood incident at Greenville.

"No Blease man," he said, "has attempted to assassinate Senator Smith."

"It was reported that I would be assassinated here to-day," claimed the Chief Executive. "If the assassin is here there is nothing between me and the dirty coward. Let him shoot."

Governor Blease voiced his belief in fatalism, saying that his death had been predestined for a certain way and nothing could change the manner of his passing.

Governor Blease claimed there is a rumor in circulation that he pardoned a negro rapist, Fred Elledge. This negro died in the penitentiary, he said, on May 5, 1912.

Predicting that he would be elected to the Senate and making his usual attack against Senator Smith, Governor Blease concluded his speech by eulogizing Thomas B. Crews and John M. Cannon, both deceased.

Senator Smith, the last speaker, was heckled by a small crowd, said to be from Anderson, county, as he began. He demanded a quiet and respectful hearing, addressing his remarks to the chairman. The howlers then subsided. Senator Smith did not depart materially from his cotton speech.

Chairman Browning demonstrated that he is one of the best presiding officers in the State. He had a turbulent, record-breaking crowd to control, and attention was given to all speakers, except Mr. Pollock.

There was a nervous tension to-day before the meeting started, as there was an expectancy of trouble, but this did not materialize. However, the boldness and savagery of Mr. Pollock's attack on the Governor seemed to anger the Blease men, but they did nothing but howl.

Governor Blease received a bouquet and Senator Smith several cotton stalks.

L. D. Jennings, the second speaker, was received with cheers. He calmly discussed the record of the Chief Executive and he was heard attentively by the large audience.

After paying his respects to the Governor's pardon record, Mr. Jennings asked: "Would you get rid of the negro mail clerk by tying him at the end of a hemp rope?"

"Yes, yes!" cried several voices. "Well, I am sorry for you," replied Mr. Jennings. "And I am glad that the balance of South Carolina doesn't believe that way."

W. P. Pollock, the third speaker, was merciless in his arraignment of the record of Governor Blease. Blease hecklers howled at him throughout his speech, and he finished under difficulties. Those howling most were said to be from Anderson, Spartanburg and other counties.

A tense moment in his speech was when Mr. Pollock held up the torn red Union Republican ticket and announced that the name of J. P. Gibson was on it.

"It is a lie!" cried a man in the audience. Several policemen surrounded the man and Acting Chairman Browning told the heckler he must be quiet.

"A man can't come to my face and say that I am a liar unless he desires to take the consequences," replied Mr. Pollock. "It is only a coward who stands back and insults a gentleman."

Mr. Pollock then offered to withdraw from the race if Mr. Gibson's name was not on the ticket referred to above.

BLOODY HEADS AT RIDGELAND.

State Campaigners Halted by Fight. Police Club Proves Boomerang.

Ridgeland, July 22.—Two damaged heads and three arrests were the results of a difficulty that furnished the only real excitement at the campaign meeting here to-day, when the candidates for State officers spoke to a crowd of not more than 400, one-third of whom were ladies and children. None of the candidates, however, was involved in the trouble, which, for a time, threatened to develop into a free-for-all fight.

The prompt and effective work of Sheriff H. H. Porter and Chief of Police C. P. Sauls restoring order several minutes after the fracas began. The injured are James Cooler and Harry Bennett, the latter a special policeman. Both men were struck on the head with Bennett's club, blood flowing freely from both wounds, which, however, were only scalp injuries.

Those arrested were James Cooler, his son, Ernest Cooler, and Charles Cooler, a brother of James Cooler, all of Jasper county. Charles Cooler was released on a cash bond of $25, but at last reports father and son were still in the village lockup.

The fight took place in front of the speakers' stand while Attorney General Thos. H. Peoples was speaking, and started, according to eye-witnesses, when Policeman Bennett arrested young Ernest Cooler for alleged disorderly conduct, the latter's father, it was said, undertaking to interfere in behalf of his son. Bennett, it was further stated, then struck the elder Cooler with his club. Charles Cooler, it seems, took a hand about this time, and in the mix-up Ernest Cooler secured the officer's club and planted a blow on the latter's head. A large crowd congregated about the belligerents, who were soon overpowered and removed from the scene. The Attorney General then resumed his speech and the incident, so far as its effect upon the meeting was concerned, was at an end.

Another Incident. A near-feature of the meeting was the threat of C. D. Fortner, candidate for Railroad Commissioner, to put J. A. Hunter "out of the race" for Lieutenant Governor "if he attacks me again." Mr. Fortner charging that Mr. Hunter "batted into" the race for Railroad Commissioner in his speech at Beaufort last Saturday.

A MILLION DOLLAR DAMAGE.

Farmers Suffered Severely from Hail. Estimates Loss at $1,000,000.

Columbia, July 24.—"The situation has not been painted black enough. It is the duty of the people of the State to help the stricken districts," said O. K. LaRoque, adjutant for a well known hail and storm insurance company, who was among the visitors in Columbia yesterday, having returned after visiting the devastated section of York county. He said that hail storms during the past several weeks had badly damaged the crops in sections of York, Laurens, Union, Spartanburg, Anderson, Greenwood and Aiken counties.

"I estimate that the damage to crops in the State by the hail storms will be about $1,000,000," said Mr. LaRoque.

"In the hail section of York county it looks like winter time," said Mr. LaRoque, "and the farmers need seed for replanting. I have been wiring all over the country to secure Irish potato seed, but have been unsuccessful. Some of the farmers of York county are in destitute circumstances. They certainly need help, and I hope that the people of the State will respond favorably on the resolutions that have been introduced by members from the districts."
